

▲ 233 Main Street

Sesquicentennial Celebration of Our Prime Ministers

Lester B Pearson

Led by Dr. Stephen Azzi

7:00 p.m., Monday, June 26, 2017

Room L120, 233 Main Street, Saint Paul University

Come celebrate and learn - it's free

Dr. Stephen Azzi will be helping us better understand the life and times of Lester B. Pearson, Nobel Prize winner and prime minister in two productive minority governments in the 1960s. Stephen is associate professor of political management, history, and political science at Carleton University, where he is supervisor of the Clayton H. Riddell Graduate Program in Political Management.

Stephen holds a PhD from the University of Waterloo and has extensive political experience, having worked for four members of Parliament. He is author of Walter Gordon and the Rise of Canadian Nationalism and Reconcilable Differences: A History of Canada-US Relations. This is the fourth of a series of talks to celebrate Canada's prime ministers.

Pre-registration would be appreciated: info@ottawaeast.ca

Presented by the Old Ottawa East Community Association (OOECA) and Saint Paul University.

Additional information and reading suggestions at: <http://www.ottawaeast.ca/>

